

HOME SUPERINTENDENCY.

It is regretted by many that a man who has discharged the responsibilities of his public office as well as Grimmon has should be deposed from his office for purely political reasons, but it is not to be expected that the Silver party will regard either personal desirability or efficiency.—Enterprise.

The Enterprise has had a great many editors at different times, whose antics on the tripod have been a source of amusement to the people of Nevada. The importation who at present holds the position seems to be the greenest of the lot.

He seems absolutely unable to comprehend the fact that last Fall the Silver party of Nevada routed all the opposing combines, and that it is filling all lucrative positions within its gift with people of its own choosing. Governor Colcord turned his office over to Mr. Jones "for purely political reasons." O. H. Grey turned his keys over to Mr. Howell for the same cause, and so it went all along the line. No one can dispute the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Grimmon have been the best managers that the Home ever had. They have made an enviable impression on the people of this city, won the affections of the children, and made a splendid record during their term.

Mr. Grimmon was placed there by the Republican party because he was a Republican. Had he been a Democrat he would never have been asked to take the place. Now, it is folly to suppose that no one in all the Silver party can be found who can successfully take the place of Mr. Grimmon.

It would be ridiculous for the Silver men to say that their party was so deficient of material, that it could not fill the offices within its gift. A party who feels so weak as that in timber had better go out of business. Now suppose Mr. Beebe should make even a better Superintendent than Mr. Grimmon, and at the end of four years the Republican party should be in control. How long, Mr. Enterprise, do you suppose Mr. Beebe's efficiency would keep him in the Home? Not 48 hours, and every man, woman and child in the State knows it.

The Lampman Case.

The Examiner says that the Attorneys in the Fair will case are flooded with letters from this city for and against Miss Lampman, the alleged mother of Senator Fair's grand-child, and one reads:

The young lady came here with her mother a few months before her death and was a stranger to the people of Carson. Yet she might have been well known to them and still such an event could have occurred without obtaining public knowledge, as has been the case with others. The people of Carson, like the people of any other place, under such circumstances, while their sympathy and charity go out toward the poor girl, simply don't know the facts in the case. Had such been the case neither the girl nor her mother would have published and made known the facts.

Whatever the newspaper reports may be relative to the matter, the people of this city still believe in the good character of the girl.

Rather Queer.

One of the queer things about the Blythe estate is that in all the litigation now about drawing to a close, no mention was ever made of Blythe's Piche child. When he lived in Piche he had a daughter by a woman with whom he was living, and he publicly acknowledged it. Many of the old residence of Piche remember the child and trotted it on their knees.

He often said it was his only child. But in the long litigation for the Blythe millions, the child was only hinted at in the newspapers, and never came to the surface. It is a wonder that no attempt was ever made to trace it.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Byron Waters now turns out to be the man who will be the claim adjuster of the S. P. R. R. He was formerly a partner of Judge Messick, and is a well known attorney. This once more knocks the theory that only Silver party men of Nevada get favors from the S. P. The papers will probably have a new man in the field tomorrow.

Oscar Wilde has been ordered to leave a fashionable London hotel, because the guests refused to remain under the same roof with him. If the charges brought against him by the Marquis of Queensbury are true, he should be kicked out of all decent society. It is remarkable that a man of such rare mental gifts as Wilde's should have sunk so low.

The Connecticut senate has repealed the last of her world-renowned blue laws, which permitted a magistrate, without any testimony but his own knowledge, to convict a person of saying d-m words, going fishing on Sunday, or otherwise demeaning himself like a lost sheep.

The Weiland Saloon.

Whitney has assumed control of the Weiland saloon, which he proposes to run strictly up to the times. He will dispense the best liquors and cigars and fine old Government whiskey which slides down your throat like oil, tickling your palate meanwhile. Call and see "Handsome Whit." f11
